Flour Bluff Primary to host “Reading Under the Stars” *Literacy event focused on inspiring reading one family at a time

Flour Bluff Primary School Library will bring together the local community and families for a literacy event on Friday, May 5. The students of Flour Bluff Primary School along with their families will enjoy dinner and a night of literacy and learning in a camp-out style.

The event will kick-off with families, teachers, and community members selecting delicious books to read together from a book menu. Families will also enjoy dinner served by community members, teachers and former students. Campfire songs will be sung while enjoying campsite desserts. Kids and adults will be engaged in deep conversation about the universe and stars above with an iPad app and the knowledge gained from select guest speakers.

This version of a Reading Restaurant is designed to promote literacy, build family and school connections, foster community relationships and empower adults to foster a lifetime love of reading. The event is sponsored by Flour Bluff ISD Foundation for Educational Excellence, H-E-B and Flour Bluff Primary.
