Ava Valencia

Ava is an exceptional student in the Maritime program, where she consistently demonstrates curiosity, determination, and a strong commitment to excellence. She stands out for her ability to grasp complex engineering concepts and apply them in hands-on settings, showing both intelligence and creativity in her work. Her positive attitude and teamwork make her a valued member of the class, and she approaches each challenge with confidence and focus.

Currently working toward her Maritime Engineering certification, Ava continues to build a strong foundation for her future. With plans to earn a college degree in maritime engineering, she is charting a clear course toward a rewarding career in the field—one that reflects her passion for innovation and the maritime industry's vital role in the world.

4 ECC Career Day

The ECC was buzzing with excitement as students got a firsthand look at the many paths their futures could take during Career Day! Parents and community members came together to share their professions, giving our littlest Hornets a chance to dream big and learn about the working world.

Presenters included Drake Atkinson, who spoke about his work in machinery engineering, Lindsey Eastep, a salon owner and stylist, Jonathan Hapa, a skilled crane operator, and Mina Benavidez, a successful business owner. Each visitor took time to explain their career, show tools of their trade, and answer questions from curious students.

It was a fun and meaningful day that helped spark interest and imagination in our future leaders. A huge thank you to all who participated and made this event so special!
